A CRAP GAME AT THOMPSON'S.

Louis Henn Lost His Money There-No Robbery.

Louis Henn, a driver for Jacob Metzger & Company, who disturbed the police with the startling story Monday afternoon that he was held up and robbed of $17.85 on the Michigan road not far from Fall creek, has confessed that he lost the money in a crap game at Thompson's roadhouse. When he reported the story Chief Splann gave it no credence and detailed detectives to work on it. Henn stated that after he was robbed he returned to Thompson's and reported his loss, and that on leaving there he followed the tracks of the robbers through the cornfield. The detectives learned that Henn did not return to Thompson's. Henn was taken before Chief Splann yesterday, and when he was confronted with the facts in the case he broke down, and, amid sobbing, said he had lost the money in the crap game, and that he had concocted the story of the robbery to hide his misdoings. Mr. Metzger refused to prosecute Henn, but discharged him.

POPULAR YOUNG LAWYER WILL BE THE NEXT COUNTY CLERK.

Republican County Committee Recommends Him to Take the Late Mr. Joyce's Place.

James W. Fesler, one of the prominent young Republicans of the city, is to be placed on the Republican county ticket as the nominee for clerk, in the place made vacant by the death of Aurelius J. Joyce. The county committee, at its session yesterday, decide to recommend Mr. Fesler to Chairman Moores and he will, in accordance with that recommendation, certify to Mr. Fesier's name. Mr. Fesier is a resident of the Fifteenth ward, is a lawyer of ability and exceedingly popular.

The committee had excellent material from which to make a choice as a number of prominent and capable men had allowed their names to go before the committee in connection with the nomination. The committee was called to order shortly after 2 o'clock with 208 members present, besides the members of the campaign committee, together with the following members of the finance committee: Chapin C. Foster, Henry W. Bennett, Preston C. Trusler, Roscoe O. Hawkins, H. S. New, Cyrus J. Clark, Lewis W. Weisenberger, Harry B. Gates and John L. Ketcham.

After announcing the object of the meeting Chairman Moores appointed a committe on resolutions consisting of Joseph B. Kealing, Alfred M. Glossbrenner, William Pollard, Roscoe O. Hawkins and Byron Dawson. This committee presented the following resolutions, which were unanimously

"It is with profound regret and sorrow that the Republican county committee meets to-day to fill the vacancy on the county ticket, caused by the death of A.

"Resolved, By the Republican county committee here assembled, that in his daily life and walk, Mr. Joyce has always shown himself to be an honest and fearless Christian man, well beloved by his friends and neighbors; that Mr. Joyce has always been an earnest and zealous Republican, ready to devote his time and energy, and contribute his means to advance the interests of the Republican party, and that in his death the Republicans of Marion county have suffered a great loss.

"Resolved, That we extend to the be-reaved family our earnest and heartfelt sympathy in their great affliction. "Resolved, That a copy of the above resolutions be printed in the daily papers and a copy sent to the family." The roll of the committee was called for nominations for the clerkship. The following names were put before the committee: Archibald A. Young, of the Third ward; John E. Cleland, of the Sixth ward; John W. Bowlus, of the Third ward; Charles Krauss, of the Seventh ward; John R. Clin-ton, of the Twelfth ward; Leander A Ful-mer, of the Thirteenth ward, and James W. Fesler, of the Fifteenth ward. The name of Cyrus J. Clark, of West Indian-apolis, was also presented but immediately withdrawn. It was decided that the vote be taken by precinct, and as the name of each committeman was called he should arise and announce his choice. Messrs. Merle A. Walker, Clinton A. Cox and Joachim Traugott were appointed assistant secretaries. The whole number of votes cast was 218, necessary to a choice 110. On the first ballot Mr. Fesler received 74, Mr. Young 50, Mr. Krauss 37, Mr. Fulmer 27, Mr. Cleland 11, Clinton 8, and Bowlus 2. The second ballot resulted as follows:

Mr. Fesler's nomination was made unanimous and the committee then adjourned. James W. Fesler is one of the youngest men ever nominated for this important and very desirable office. He was born in September, 1864, and is therefore just past his thirtieth birthday. His parents lived in Morgantown, Morgan county, when he was born, and soon afterwards moved to Franklin, Johnson county, where the boy grew to manhood. He had secured the basis of a good education in the public schools of the town and from them entered Franklin College. Here he completed the sophomore year and then entered the junior year at the State University, at Bloomington, where he finished the clasical course in 1887. Settling in this city he entered the law office of Harrison, Miller & Elam and was there for nearly three years. He opened an office of his own in the spring of 1890 and about a year ago formed a partnership with E. E. Stevenson, the firm name being Fesler & Stevenson, with an office in the Commercial Club block. Mr. Fesler has been active in the party organization of the last six years and, besides serving as the secretary and president of the Marion Club, which he helped to organize, was the secretary of the county Republican committee in 1892 and was elected as chairman of the congressional district committee and is, ex officio, a member of the State central committee. He is extremely popular, especially among young men, being sympathetic and frank in all his relations with his fellows. He is well fitted to serve the people in the capacity for which he was nominated.

the State Ballots. The electrotype plates of the State election ballots were put on the presses at the W. B. Burford establishment at 7 o'clock yesterday morning, and at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon 200,000 tickets had been delivered to the clerk of the printing bureau at the Statehouse. As fast as the ballots are brought in they are placed in the iron vault. The name of Arnold J. Padgett, of the First district, does not appear on the Populist ticket, although Secretary Cummings bestirred himself yesterday to get it there. At a late day the Populists found that Mr. Padgett would accept the nomination of Supreme Judge for the First district, which office had been left blank from the fact that no one could be found during the convention to make the race. At their meeting Tuesday morning the election commissioners construed the law to provide that certifications of candidates could not be made later than 5 o'clock of that day, and that the printing of the tickets must begin the next morning. Secretary Cummings, Tuesday afternoon, called at the Statehouse and announced that the Populists had a candidate for Supreme Judge of the First district, but failed to certify to the same. Myron D. King and Clerk Stein waited until after 5 o'clock Tuesday evening, but the certification of the candidate was not made. Yesterday morning the presses were started without the Populist candidate, and yesterday afternoon Mr. Cummings indulged in a lively skirmish with the State officials. The Populist secretary asserted that the election board had violated the statute by going on with the work before the time prescribed by the election law. He contended that the time for the certification of a candi-date did not expire until 5 o'clock yesterday evening. The secretary did not threaten to enjoin further procedure, but left the office sadly out of humor with his auditors. The election law of Indiana provides that certificates and petitions of nomination shall be filed with the Governor not more than sixty and not less than twenty days before the day fixed by law for one elec-tion of the persons in nomination. The Populists aver that the time did not expire until 12 o'clock last night. The Governor the first of the twenty days prior to the election began at midnight Tuesday night.

CITY'S DELINQUENT TAXES.

City and County Treasurership Not Liked by Mr. Trusler.

"The combination of the city treasurership with the county treasurership was not a good thing in many ways," said City Controller Trusler yesterday. "There is $100,000 standing out as delinquent taxes due the city, but the treasurer is making no effort to collect it. The county business takes all his time and every employe in the office considers himself as employed by the county and not the city. It was a measure of political expediency by a Democratic Legislature to consolidate the offices, because then the Democrats never had show of carrying this city."

GETTING MEN DRUNK

METHODS OF DEMOCRATIC CANDI-DATES AT THE BIG FOUR SHOPS.

Brightwood Indignant at a Scandalous Proceeding-Free Beer Incapacitated Men from Their Work.

The committee of the Good Citizenship League can find an excellent field for investigation by a few inquiries at the Big Four shops at Brightwood. The canvassing methods of Democratic candidates have been scandalous enough all along, but not until yesterday did they excite the indignation of the good people living at Brightwood and the Big Four officials, who depend on the sobriety of their men for effective work. Yesterday afternoon the work at the shops was seriously hampered by the invasion of the suburb at the noon hour by three Democratic candidates for county offices. The officials would not have offered the least objection to a legitimate canvass of their shops at the noon hour, but they were very indignant at the course pursued by Hunter McCaslin, Democratic candidate for treasurer, E. M. Johnson, Democratic candidate for auditor, and Charles McGuire, candidate for clerk on the same ticket. Employes of the shop were made maudlin drunk by these campaigners, and when the whistle blew for the resumption of work in the afternoon twenty of the employes were unable to resume their places in the shop on account of their condition.

The trio of Democratic candidates made their appearance in the suburb a short time before noon and sent word over to the shops that they would like to have the men come over and "take something" at noon. The saloons of Messrs. Seidensticker and Stevens were named as the places where the liquor would be on tap free to all comers. A great many of those who went over to the saloons only expected to take a single glass of beer, but when they got inside the candidates in-sisted that they drink freely. Glass after glass of liquor was recklessly passed out. The candidates blandly urged that every bit of it be taken, hoping to impress the men by their prodigality and caring little for the fact that the men were apt to lose their positions by appearing at work in a drunken condition. A dozen or so of the men who were unable to withstand the pressing invitations of the candidates fell by the wayside and did not even go near the shops in the afternoon. Cal Bush and other foremen of departments began to skirmish around to secure enough men to operate the shops, and it was with diffi-culty that they secured a force large enough to do the work. Some of the men who had been enjoying the social hour with the Democrats tried to do their duty, but the foremen were compelled to send them home, as it was dangerous to have them around the machinery while not in possession of their sober senses.

The affair created much unfavorable omment on the streets of Brightwood last night, and some of the men who had un-willingly taken too much liquor joined the others of the suburb in denouncing the politicians, who showed so little respect for them. Not a few proposed to ride out of town on a rail the next Democratic candidate that came along. The Big Four officials considerately decided to overlook this affair, believing that the candidates who furnished the liquor were more to blame than the men, but the action of McCaslin and others will probably be responsible for an order preventing candidates from interfering with the men in the shops. It is said some of the Bright-wood ministers will preach about the affair next Sunday and condemn such disgraceful campaign methods. Among the many whom the candidates made drunk were a number of boys who had never been in that condition before.

IN ITS NEW HOME.

Herculean Republican Club, Colored,

Has a House Warming.

The Herculean Republican Club, composed of enterprising young colored men, installed itself in its new home at No. 354 / Douglass street last night. When the club was organized some three months ago the members began to look around for a suitable location for a home. The substantial two-story house of seven rooms at the above number was selected and the work of furnishing it commenced. Yesterday the club found itself ready to take possession of its house and prepared for a gala time. The two lower front rooms, to be used as reception rooms, are richly carpeted. The other two lower rooms are carpeted with matting and will be used for the meetings of the board of directors and the officers. The three upper rooms have been furnished in the same way and will be used for billiards and other games. The entire house has been neatly papered, and the furniture throughout is of oak. Last night the front lawn was illuminated with lighted Japanese lanterns. The interior was decorated with bunting, flags and flowers. Up to 9 o'clock the members devoted themselves to entertaining their friends, who called in great numbers. Punch and cigars were served. At 9 o'clock the president. Joseph Broyles, called those present to order to hold a short jolification meeting. In a short talk he stated that the purpose of the club is to gve its members a place for social enjoyment and to afford a study of political and literary topics. Hon, George Knox, in an address that created much interest, said the colored people have in thirty years progressed as much as the white people did in four hundred. He attributed this to the Republican party. Among others who spoke were W. W. Christy and Gabriel Jones. After the speeches a musical programme was furnished. The club numbers 126 members and has prospects of a growing future. The officers are: President, Joseph H. Broyles; vice president, Thomas Pratt; secretary, James Shelby; treasurer, William Lewis, and sergeant-at-arms, William Finley. There is a board of five directors that controls the business interests of the club.

SPREADING THE PERJURIES. Copies of the Sentinel at Mr. Henry's

Noon Meeting. Mr. Henry's noon-hour meeting yesterday was held near the corner of Madison avenue and Ray street in front of the Dean works. About 450 voters from that factory and others in the vicinity gave Mr. Henry the closest attention while he spoke for twenty-five minutes until the whistles called them to work. The distribution of the Sentinel's perjured affidavits gave Mr. Henry an opportunity to say that one of the makers of the Sentinel's affidavits had confessed that he had committed perjury in accusing him and made oath to it. This reduced the perjuries to three, which could not stand in the face of affidavits from twenty-nine employes contradicting them and the action of the window glass blowers of Anderson. At noon to-day Mr. Henry will speak near the Nordyke & Marmon factory in West Indianapolis.

AN AUDIENCE OF EIGHT.

A Brass Band Failed to Help the Democrats at Lincoln Park. The Democrats made extensive preparations for a big meeting at Lincoln Park, near the State fair grounds, last night, but it proved to be a fizzle. The meeting had been billed in Mapleton, Broad Ripple, Allisonville and other small places in that part of the county. The speakers advertised were John M. Bailey and E. St.

noon a band was stationed in the park to disperse quantities of music with the hope of inspiring enough courage into those who might chance to pass by to enter. The band played until 7:30 o'clock and had succeeded in getting eight people inside the park's confines. Bailey was the first of the speakers to arrive. He received a chilly reception, and started to make a talk. Just as he finished the first few sentences his coworker, Mr. Rogers, appeared on the scene, and on seeing the ridiculously small audience shouted to Bailey to stop speaking and accompany him to the city. This Bailey was glad to do, and the meet-ing, if such it could be called, broke up in very short order.

Mr. Henry at Haughville To-Night. Charles L. Henry was greeted last night at Brightwood by an audience of at least five hundred people. The First Ward Club marched over in a body headed by a drum corps. The speech was an open, frank discussion of the baneful effects upon American industries of the Democratic attitude and acts in the line of tariff reform. Mr. Henry received the most respectful and earnest attention and was often interrupted with vigorous applause. He will speak to-night at Haughville and preparations have been made for a great meeting. The Bald-headed Glee Club will be ing. The Bald-head Glee Club will be present to furnish the music.

No More Rent Paying.

An agreement has been made between Chairman Moores, of the Republican county committee, and Chairman Holtzman, of the Democratic committee, to protect themselves from the "bleeders" who annoy the party managers with demands that their rent be paid else they will move, and lose their votes. Whenever a voter approaches either and threatens to move his name will be given to the other chairman, and when he offers to vote he will be challenged by both sides on the ground that he has of-fered to sell his vote.

Mr. Stapp a Stanch Republican. PROUD OF THEIR JERSEYS.

Indiana Breeders' Association Holds an Adjourned Meeting.

The Indiana Jersey Cattle-breeders' Association met in an adjourned session at the Grand Hotel last night. D. H. Jenkins. president of the association, presided and talked of matters relative to the soft-eyed Jersey. All of the business left unfinished at the May meeting of the association was brought up last night and disposed of. George Jackson, of this county, addressed the meeting on the question of milk purity. He had investigated closely and was proud to say that the milk of the little Jersey was far superior to any other. Last year when this city was agitated over the reported impurities in milk an investigation resulted in a triumph for the Jersey cow.
Seven per cent. of butter fat was found in the milk drawn from this breed of cattle.
Dr. D. G. Woolen talked of the diseases of Jersey cattle from a scientific point of view. He spoke particularly of tuberculosis and in-breeding.

S. W. McKibbin, of Augusta, Ky., gave the association the benefit of observations formed from a thirty-five years' experi-ence with the Jersey breed. James T. Riley, of Thorntown, advocated the cultivation of scarlet clover as a profitable food for the Jersey. Scarlet clover, he thought, was best for a perpetual yield. It was su-perior to the old varieties in many points. To-day the association will conduct the annual Jersey stock sale at Johnson's sale barn, No. 400 East Washington street,
